OIL LEASE FRAUDS REED'S THEME

Alleged Principals Arraigned by the Missouri Senator.

STANDARD OIL IS DRAGGED IN Company Alleged to Have Fraudulently Acquired Possession of Two Sections In Naval Reserve No. 1. Denby, Daugherty, Fall and Others Attacked by the Senator—Developments In Oil Lease Probe.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Senator James A. Reed of Missouri pronounced in the senate a scathing arraignment against those whom he named as "accomplices" in the navy oil lease frauds.

Ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall, Secretary of the Navy Denby, Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and the two oil magnates accused of bribing Fall, E. L. Doheny and Harry F. Sinclair, were named by the senator.

For the first time the Standard Oil company of California was dragged out in the course of Senator Reed's expose. He traced the steps whereby he said the Standard Oil had fraudulently acquired possession of sections 16 and 36 in naval reserve No. 1. He alleged that the oil company had already extracted $100,000,000 of oil out of the navy's reserves for war time.

Speaking on the Robinson resolution calling for the dismissal of Secretary Denby from the cabinet, Senator Reed demanded that the government be rid of Denby on the ground of negligence and malfeasance in office. He charged that Denby was a participant and accomplice of Fall in all the alleged irregularities and misdeeds that led to his door, with the exception, he said, of the "acceptance of the $100,000 bribe from Doheny" and the subsequent purchase of Fall's Three Rivers ranch in New Mexico.

Attorney General Daugherty was charged with connivance in perpetuating Standard Oil's alleged illegal operations. Senator Reed detailed how Standard Oil's attorney, Sutro, secured from Daugherty an order staying Daugherty's assistant from taking measures to oust the Standard Oil company.

Fall Not to Be Recalled. Atlee Pomerene and Silas Strawn, special counsel appointed by the president to assist the Walsh probe committee, advised the committee that, if it compelled Fall to testify, he would probably gain immunity from prosecution for offenses with respect to which he might testify. They advised not allowing Fall to testify unless he would waive his constitutional privilege of not having his own words used against him.

After receipt of this advice, the Walsh committee, informed by Fall's counsel that he would stand on his rights, voted to vacate his subpoena and release him from further attendance on the committee.

Edward L. Doheny issued a correction of testimony before the committee. Now he says that his total pay to McAdoo was $150,000, instead of $250,000, and that McAdoo is now on his payroll for only $25,000 instead of $50,000.

The senate unanimously passed the LaFollette resolution extending through the present session of congress jurisdiction of the Walsh committee over the oil lease investigation. This meets Fall's contention last Saturday that this jurisdiction had expired with the end of last congress.

The senate unanimously passed the Walsh resolution condemning Standard Oil's title to sections 16 and 36 of naval reserve No. 1, and directing Pomerene and Strawn to prosecute for the return of these sections to the government, at the same time that they prosecute for the cancellation of the Doheny and Sinclair leases.

Immedately after the Reed speech two Republican lawyer senators, Pepper and Edge, spoke against the Robinson resolution urging Denby's removal, alleging the senate ought not to prejudice Denby, who might later come before them as a jury in impeachment proceedings and that under the magna charter Denby deserved his day in court before being condemned.

Victims of Trichinosis. Steubenville, O., Feb. 8.—Paul Carpelotti, 39, is dead and five other men are seriously ill here from trichinosis. The malady was contracted through eating partly cooked meat of a pig at a supper at the home of Carpelotti.

COOLIDGE ORDERS PROBE

Gasoline Prices in West Said to Have
Been Boosted 130 Per Cent.

Washington, Feb. 8.—President Coolidge directed the federal trade commission and the department of justice to investigate immediately charges that the Standard Oil company has raised the price of gasoline at the refineries 130 per cent. The charges were made in a telegram sent the president by Governor Mc-Masters of South Dakota.

Mr. Coolidge will notify Governor Mc-Masters that a searching inquiry will be made without delay. Mc-Masters wired that the allied interests of the Standard Oil company had cornered the crude oil market and then raised the refinery price. Because of this, he said, the state of South Dakota was helpless to prevent profiteering, as it originated outside the state.

WOULD PROBE LIBERTY BOND DUPLICATION

Solons Seek Full Statement from the Treasury.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Both the house and senate stand ready to investigate liberty bond duplication scandals, unless the cards of the treasury department are forthwith laid on the table, congressional leaders say.

This readiness is a sequel to exhibition of evidence to representatives purporting to show flotation of spurious bonds worth millions, and Mr. Mellon's reiteration that he had found "nothing alarming" in the sensational charges of Charles B. Brewer, special attorney for the department of justice.

Senator Caraway of Arkansas, Democratic whip, declared that unless the treasury head presented a full and satisfactory statement within a few days, he would demand an exhaustive probe by the senate, extending to the bureau of engraving and printing.

Congressman LaGuardia, progressive Republican of New York, one of the prime movers for a complete expose in the matter, introduced a resolution and a bill, respectively, demanding a full accounting of bond issues from the secretary of the treasury and providing for a congressional committee to supervise destruction of redeemed or faulty bonds.

Interview Repudiated.

London, Feb. 8.—Former Premier Lloyd George issued a repudiation of the Spender interview, published in a New York newspaper, regarding the "secret agreement" between Woodrow Wilson and George Clemenceau concerning French occupation of the Rhineland. Lloyd George described the interview as a "confused impression of a private conversation." The statement made on behalf of the former premier adds: "The statement which Spender makes Lloyd George make about having never seen the proposals giving the French control of the Rhineland for 15 years is absurd on the face of it."

Edward Bowles, his wife and their two children were burned to death in their farm home, five miles west of Unionville, Mich., when a five-gallon can of kerosene, being used to start a kitchen fire, exploded.

MELLON TAX BILL REPORTED OUT

Schedules Urged by the Secretary Remain Intact.

BITTER FIGHT IN HOUSE LOOMS

Democrats and Progressives to Submit Minority Reports, the Former Advocating the Garner Plan For Surtax Schedule and the Latter Retention of the Present Surtax Rates—Compromise Sought.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The Mellon tax reduction bill, with the income tax schedules recommended by the secretary of the treasury intact, was ordered favorably reported by the house ways and means committee.

It will be formally presented to the house next Monday. House leaders have not decided definitely when they will call it up. Republican Leader Longworth said it might be taken up Thursday of next week or go over until the week following. Final decision depends he said, upon how rapidly the pending treasury and post-office appropriation bill is disposed of.

The vote in the committee on reporting out the bill was 15 to 3, eight of the Democrats, including Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking minority member, recording themselves as "present." The three Democrats, voting against reporting the measure were Hull of Tennessee, chairman of the Democratic national committee; Oldfield of Arkansas, minority whip in the house, and Carew of New York.

The eight minority committeemen voting present took the attitude that while they were opposed to a number of important features of the bill as drafted by the Republicans, they did not wish to put any obstacle in the way of tax reductions. The rates have got to be fought out on the floor anyway, they said. Hull, Oldfield and Carew, however, asserted they would prefer continuation of the existing law to that proposed in the bill as reported.

Representative Frear, progressive Republican, voted with the regulars on both roll calls, but explained that he reserved complete freedom of action when the bill comes up in the house. Frear announced also that he will submit a minority report, recommending the plan of the progressive bloc as a substitute for the Mellon rates approved by the committee. The progressive plan contemplates retention of the present surtax schedule, with a maximum rate of 50 per cent, and reductions of the normal taxes from 4 per cent on incomes up to $4,000 a year to 2 per cent, and from 3 to 4 per cent on incomes above $4,000. The cuts proposed by Mr. Mellon and adopted by the committee are from 50 to 25 per cent in case of the surtax maximum and from 8 to 6 and 4 to 3 per cent in the normal tax rates.

The Democrats also will submit a minority report, advocating the Garner plan for a surtax schedule with a maximum rate of 44 per cent, but reducing the normal taxes lower than Mellon proposes. Definite decision has not been reached as to the latter rates to be favored.

The three reports from the ways and means committee make certain a bitter fight on the floor. Regular Republican leaders concede that they will not be able to put through the 25 per cent surtax maximum. They have been working for the past three days on some compromise rate that would command the united support of the regulars on their side and have some chance of winning over a sufficient number of insurgent-progressives and Democrats to adopt it.

McADOO SEEKS HEARING

Severs His Connection With the Doheny Oil Interests.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Former Secretary of the Treasury William Gibbs McAdoo addressed a lengthy letter to Chairman Walsh of the senate oil and land lease investigating committee, demanding an immediate hearing before the committee. Mr. McAdoo also revealed that he has severed his connection with Doheny, stating: "When I read in the newspapers Mr. Doheny's amazing disclosures about his transactions with ex-Secretary Fall, I refrained from immediately terminating my professional services with him, as was my first impulse, although I have now done so."

DOINGS IN OHIO

Wife Slayer Executed.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Mike Sipich, miner, of Harrison county, wife slayer, was electrocuted at the Ohio penitentiary shortly after midnight. He was a native of Montenegro, was received at the penitentiary May 26, 1923, and his original date of execution was set for Sept. 4, 1923. Sipich was convicted of shooting to death his wife after they had quarreled over domestic money matters.

Counsel for the defense after the prisoner was found guilty carried his case first to the court of appeals and then to the supreme court, the latter court setting his date of execution as Feb. 8.

Man Shot; Wife Held.

Fremont, O., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Anna Krugh, 30, is held here pending the outcome of injuries to her husband, Earl Krugh, now in a Toledo hospital suffering from bullet wounds inflicted, it is charged, by Mrs. Krugh. The shooting occurred at the Krugh home. Mrs. Krugh is said to have threatened to kill Krugh and herself because of Krugh's alleged attentions to another woman.

Burke to Manage Toledo Club.

Toledo, Feb. 8.—James T. Burke of St. Louis was signed as manager of the Toledo baseball club for the 1924 season by Joseph D. O'Brien, new club owner. Burke was former manager of the St. Louis Browns, American league, and Kansas City and Louisville clubs of the American association.

Favor Hard Surface Roads.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Permanent construction of Ohio roads, using only hard surface material, was favored in a resolution unanimously adopted by the Ohio County Commissioners' association. Resolutions favoring a 2-cent gasoline tax and an extra 1-mill levy for road work were also passed.

Unger Must Stand Trial.

Toledo, Feb. 8.—Federal Judge John M. Kimbrell overruled a motion by Rushton D. Niles, attorney for Adolph Unger, former mayor of Tiffin, and Charles Sterrett to dismiss the charges of possession of liquor against them.

WITHIN CATHEDRAL

Will Be Permanent Burial Place of Woodrow Wilson.

Washington, Feb. 8.—While Woodrow Wilson's remains now rest only temporarily in the vault of Bethlehem chapel, permanent burial place will be within the National cathedral structure. This has been definitely determined by Mrs. Wilson and members of the family. The only question is the exact spot to which the transfer will be made when construction of the cathedral progresses. There is no intention, it was said authoritatively, to later remove the body to Arlington, to Princeton, or any place outside the cathedral walls.

Mrs. Wilson and Miss Margaret Wilson are reported to be bearing up well after the ordeal through which they have gone within the past week. Mrs. Eleanor Wilson McAdoo, youngest daughter of the late president, however, is confined to her bed under the care of a physician. The strain of her father's death and the funeral had proven too great for her, coupled with the long journey from Los Angeles.

Steamer Tom C. Powell settled on a sandbar in the Ohio river near Paducah, Ky., soon after an ice floe had ripped a hole in her hull. Passengers and crew were rescued.

JOHNSON STILL IN THE RACE

Denies Report That He Is Preparing to Withdraw.

TO BEGIN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

McAdoo's Friends Not Ready to Concede He Is Out of the Running For the Democratic Presidential Nomination—Former Secretary of the Treasury Advised to Stand His Ground and Fight It Out.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Senator Hiram Johnson, upon his return from a meeting in Chicago with his western campaign managers, issued a vigorous denial of reports that he is preparing to withdraw from the fight for the Republican nomination for the presidency.

The senator attributed origin of the report to the Coolidge managers and declared it to be "contemptible and cowardly." He asserted he has no intention of quitting, but will continue in the race until the Republican convention makes its decision. The senator's statement follows:

"The reports circulated about my withdrawal are, of course, untrue. They emanate from my opponents, who, after manufacturing them, have the newspapers print them and editorialize concerning them. It's a contemptible and cowardly method of campaigning.

"I've just come from Chicago, where I have been consultation with my representatives in the primary states of North Dakota, Nebraska, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. All were enthusiastic and optimistic. We begin soon now an active, aggressive and militant campaign, which will continue until the Republican national convention renders its decision."

McAdoo to Fight Back.

William Gibbs McAdoo's friends are advising him to stand his ground and fight back.

They are not ready to concede that he is out of the running for the Democratic presidential nomination, as the result of disclosures before the senate oil lease scandal investigation committee of his connection with the Doheny oil interests.

The plan of action is for McAdoo to go before the committee as early as it is ready to receive him and issue a formal statement, giving his version of his relations with Edward L. Doheny, supplemented by such questions as the committee members should see fit to ask him.

McAdoo will set forth, as he has already done in his preliminary statement from Los Angeles, that his connection with Doheny was in no way related to naval oil reserve leases or other domestic oil questions, but was solely to represent Doheny in Mexican affairs. It will be contended that the objective sought by Doheny in Mexico was directly in line with the policy being pursued by the American government before he was retained, namely, the guaranteeing of American property rights in Mexico under article 27 of the Mexican constitution, and that there would have been no occasion, therefore, for Doheny to have sought McAdoo's influence with the administration in Washington.

The McAdoo explanation of why he was retained was to give Doheny, an independent oil operator not affiliated with the "oil trust," the benefit of his intimate knowledge of international affairs, particularly in Latin-American countries.

OUTLINES POLICY

Labor Government Would Welcome American Co-operation.

London, Feb. 8.—The labor government has definitely adopted the policy of welcoming American co-operation in the settlement of the world problems. To this was added the declaration that the desire of the United States to avoid becoming entangled in European affairs was perfectly understood by the MacDonald cabinet.

It was officially stated that though the labor government does not expect the United States to enter the league of nations, it hopes that America will participate when the league tackles big international problems. Britain would welcome American efforts being about a further reduction of armaments, it was said.

Russo-Italian Treaty Signed.

Rome, Feb. 8.—The treaty establishing commercial relations between Italy and soviet Russia was signed here by representatives of the two governments.

FRANCE IN RACE

Arctic Expedition Will Get Under Way in May, Officials Say.

Paris, Feb. 8.—An international race between the United States and France to claim the 1,000,000 square miles of uncharted territory near the North Pole was assured by an announcement that a French Arctic expedition will get under way in May. Heavier-than-air craft will be used. The decision was unquestionably influenced by the recent loss of the Dixmude, the giant French dirigible, which was lost with all hands in the Mediterranean.

According to the present plans, several airplanes, supplemented by warships, will start for the north the first week in May, using the warships as bases and "landing fields." Recent inventions have assured the practicability of airplanes landing on warships. Announcements from the United States that the American navy was planning to send their dirigible, the Shenandoah, to the Arctic this spring has spurred French aeronautical experts to equip four airplanes with cabins similar to those now being used by planes in trans-European flights.

Woman and Children Hit.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Cecil Walker and her two children were injured while waiting for a streetcar when struck by an automobile. Irene, aged 2, is believed to have a fractured skull, while her brother, Charles, 4, was cut and bruised.

TO MEET IN JUNE

Call Issued For Ohio Republican Convention at Columbus.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—The Republican state convention will be held in Memorial hall here June 24-25. The call for the convention was sent out by Major Charles W. Montgomery, chairman of the Republican state central committee. There will be 1,617 delegates, apportioned among the counties on the basis of one delegate for each 500 votes and each fraction thereof over 250 cast for Carl Thompson for governor in 1922.

The delegates will nominate the Republican candidates for presidential electors, formulate the Republican party's state platform and transact such other party business as arises for convention action.

Delegates to the convention will be elected at the April primaries. County central committees may divide their counties into districts, each of which shall elect one delegate, or may have all the delegates elected from the county at large. Each county may also select alternates equal in number to the delegates apportioned, if desired by the county committee.

Mayor's Removal Sought.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Removal of Mayor Hans P. Johnson of Struthers, Mahoning county, by Governor Donahy was asked by A. E. Williams of Struthers. Complaint against Johnson was made in a letter to the governor in which the mayor is charged with failure to enforce properly the liquor laws.

CROW NOT SO BLACK AS HE IS PAINTED

U. S. Experts Say Birds Do as Much Good as Harm.

Washington.—Crows have recently been roundly condemned in numerous sportsmen's periodicals and newspapers because of their destructiveness to other bird life, especially game birds. The articles, which were based on information gathered on the coastal islands of Virginia by an expedition financed by a well-known ammunition company, have made a profound impression in many quarters. Undue emphasis on peculiar local conditions, however, together with lack of distinction between the common crow and the fish crow and a faulty interpretation of the evidence at hand, has conveyed a grossly exaggerated and wholly erroneous idea of the predatory habits of the crow, according to specialists of the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture.

That the situation is by no means so serious as pictured is apparent from statements in the articles that the Virginia islands mentioned abound in game and are the favorite nesting places of large numbers of marsh birds. The whole district also is, and has been for many generations, one of the favorite hunting places of the East.

There is no question that on these Virginia islands the fish crow and the smaller numbers of the common crow present are to be seen at their worst, as regards their relation to other birds. The number of eggs of other birds reported to have been found under crow nests also has been emphasized.

The biological survey takes the attitude that on game farms and on reservations where both time and money are spent to maintain bird life in more than normal numbers, control of certain injurious species, including the crow, is warranted and even necessary. Government experts have done considerable experimental work and advise control measures in localities where the birds are injurious to crops. On the other hand, a careful study of the economic status of the crow demonstrates that over much of its range the bird probably does as much good as harm, and under some conditions its usefulness is pronounced.

Uses Snuff to Trap Man Who Looted His Store

Danzig.—Snuff worked the ruin of a thief who was robbing a tobacco store in Langfuhr, one of the suburbs of this city. One night the tobacco dealer scattered snuff on the floor. When he opened the shop in the morning there were footprints in the snuff.

A police dog traced these to the door of the owner of the building. The owner was required to take off his shoes and socks and there were still stains of snuff on his feet and the snuff shaken from the socks caused the detectives to sneeze.

Stiles, Tex.—To save an oil well which was being drilled in the Santa Rita field in Reagan county, Len Heller volunteered to descend 200 feet into the well, which was cased with an 18-inch pipe. He was successful in saving the well, and when he reached the surface the company making the test gave him $200, or $1 for each foot he was lowered.

Children Reasoning.
Elizabeth's mother died three years ago. Recently her father also passed away, leaving ten-year-old Elizabeth the eldest of three little girls. She was placed in a girls' school, where she was telling the sister of her misfortune. "God needed them," was the sister's only consolation. To which Lizzie exclaimed: "Maybe he did, but I think we kids needed them worse."

Over-Neatness Causes Agony in Some Homes

There is a woman who prides herself on being such a flawless housekeeper. It is true that she makes life a burden for her family and friends, and no one really likes her, but that signifies nothing when she reflects that her house is as neat as wax. Do you suppose for a moment that she would allow her husband and children to enter by the front door? No—a thousand times, no. That front hall is in perfect condition, and—some one might call. If that some one should chance to be a woman she wanted to show her a thing or two and make her feel small. What her own husband and children think doesn't matter. They have always to enter at the back door, and to be sure their feet are well dusted before entering.

None of her family loved her—they couldn't—but always had a cringing, quaky feeling when they came home. Her will is law. Better to die than drop a speck of anything greasy on the immaculate floor, or spill anything on that sacred table linen.

With her order is life itself. Neatness is her fetish, before whom she worships every moment of her life. She has a certain day for everything, and the mountains must be removed, and the sun change its course, before she would change her day for any duty. When a friend asks her if she is going on Friday afternoon to that lecture on "How to Make a Home Happy," she replies icily, "I go anywhere on Friday, when that is my sweeping day? Well, I guess not!"

If she comes in and finds a chair a little out of the position in which she has placed it she always flies into a rage. If a book is not at a certain angle or a newspaper not folded correctly it makes her furious.

She is always trying to think of some corner left uncleaned, and worrying for fear her bread will not rise on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

For church or society she has no time. She hates to go out because she always sees so many things that are not straight, and then she does not care to mingle with women who are not neat housekeepers; women who are foolish enough to enjoy life and do not care a rap whether the table cover is at the right angle or not; whose happy children and husband come rushing in at the sacred front door any time they wish, regardless of clean floors and carpets.

Ostrich Trimmings on Gowns and Accessories

Ostrich feather trimmings are seen on the new evening dresses and all sorts of accessories to the evening toilette feature these plumes, observes a fashion writer in the New York Tribune. A very simple frock of silk may be made quite effective by the addition of a feather motif.

Among the recent importations from Paris is a model of dull green crepe made on straight lines. The back of the bodice is cut very low and the skirt is subtly draped to one side. A decorative panel made of silver cord suspending three large ostrich motifs forms the only trimming.

A frock for a young girl is of lemon yellow silk and has a large motif of golden brown feathers at the waistline. The necklines of evening dresses for the jeune fille are sometimes outlined with a narrow feather banding in a color to match the frock. Frequently a headband to correspond with the trimming on the dress is worn.

Young girls in Paris are affecting small muffs of ostrich in the evening. These, while in a color to match the dress, are tinted from light to dark shades. They are particularly attractive when carried with frocks of the wide-skirted variety.

France to Use Soldiers to Guard Art Treasures

Paris.—The recent theft of two rare Gobelin tapestries from the Versailles palace has alarmed government authorities. The curators have not funds enough to police in really efficient fashion the palaces and museums in which art treasures worth billions of francs are kept, but several short cuts to safety have been proposed.

The first precaution was an order forbidding guards and guides to tell visitors of the great value of the treasures exhibited. "That would be tempting the devil," the curator at Versailles said.

The difficulty of guarding the palaces becomes apparent when it is realized that Fontainebleau has 2,000 rooms to be patrolled by a few guards, who much prefer to sleep.

The plans before the authorities call for an electric burglar alarm system; flooding the outside of the buildings with light, and providing the guards with police dogs. Another project is to use soldiers in guarding the art treasures.

Seeks Gold Hidden in Ancient German House

Bingen-on-the-Rhine. — The oldest dwelling in Germany, one of the oldest in all Europe, is attracting almost as much attention just now as do the reports from Egypt of the excavations of the tomb of Tutankhamen.

This house is in the little hamlet of Winkel, in the valley of the Rhine, and is known to have been built more than 1,200 years ago. Archeologists are endeavoring to obtain more exact data.

The first owner, so far as records show, was the archbishop of Mainz, Rhabanus Maurus, who died in 856.

The present owner, Count Matschke Greiffenkalu, of a curious turn of mind, believes there are many secrets and possibly much gold hidden away between the walls and under the basement floors, and he has sought the aid of scientists to determine the house's age and to assist him in his search for hidden treasure.

Two Hurlled to Death

Fresno, Cal.—Rushing water from the burst of an 84-inch water pipe line hurled Mrs. Charles Berry and her sister, Miss Linda Stetter, 200 feet down over the edge of a canyon to instant death, according to meager advices received here from Camp 33 of the Southern California Edison company in the Sierra mountains district.

Sea Serpents Numerous.

There are plenty of sea serpents, and of all snakes they are the most venomous. In tropical waters they are vastly numerous, especially in the Indian ocean, where they are often seen literally by hundreds, swimming at the surface of the water. They are six to eight feet long, very fierce and will commonly attack human beings. Their bodies are flat, and almost wholly filled by the lungs.

FIFTH SURVEY

Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Will Probably be East of River.

The fifth survey for the proposed new railroad lines of the C. & O. railroad company was completed Saturday. This new survey was made over a new route in many places a mile to the east of the other routes previously surveyed. As far as could be ascertained this fifth survey carried the line from Pike county to Richmond-Dale and from there northwest. Keep line east of the Scioto river the new line was brought near Chillicothe, running around the west edge of Mt. Logan. From there it extended to Hopetown and from that town it was not learned just what route would be taken.—Chillicothe News-Advertiser.

The route of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad thru this county has not been finished. A corps of engineers are working their way north of this city surveying a line into Columbus. The proposed route thru this county will probably be east of the river.

Hotel Stenographer
BY ROE FULKERSON

"It's mighty hard work for a father with a bootleg breath," went on the girl, "to explain to his boy that any guy who drinks hooch is headed for a precipice."

"It's an awful task for a man like you, who looks expectantly at every bob-haired woman passing thru this hotel, to tell his son he must be careful of his women associates."

"It's mighty hard to explain to a child why it ought to go to church and Sunday school when one of its parents is out playing golf and the other one gone on an automobile picnic."

"It's difficult to correct a child of a habit, which he has copied."

"It's a hard job for a mother to convince her little girl that hot mince pie will ruin any one's digestion, while the mother is putting away a slice of it herself."

"In fact, Kelly, it's a mighty tough task for any pair of parents to live up to the standard they set for their children."

"If I were going to lay a bet that some statistician could settle, it would be that more parents have been saved by trying to live up to the standards they set for their children than children have been saved living up to the standards their parents set for them."

"Children improve the family table manners, the family regularity in the bath tub, the family grammar and the family morals all around. No home can be much of a home without a few juniors running around to keep the old man's morals in working order."

Death Sentence Commuted.

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 8.—The death sentence of Thomas Russell was commuted to life imprisonment by the state pardon board, which was called together to hear a last appeal from his attorney, Judge P. A. McCarron. In an interview given a few hours before the pardon board met, Russell charged that his Indian girl sweetheart, for whose murder he was convicted, was slain by her own mother.

FATHER REUNITED TO
CONS LOST 17 YEARS

Youths Were Abducted by Their Mother in 1907.

Southbridge, Mass.—Camille L. Perron of Dresser street is rejoicing over the unexpected homecoming of his two long-lost sons, Camille Napoleon and Napoleon Wilrose Perron, whom he had not seen or heard from since their mother abducted them from their home here more than sixteen years ago, when the elder was three years and the younger only two weeks old.

Now grown to young manhood, they came back with their father after an eventful journey that extended half way across the continent and took them many months. Abandoned four years ago in South Dakota, they started East in search of their father and finally found him through a chance conversation with a taxi man.

Finds Family Missing.

It was on the night of July 11, 1907, that Perron returned to his home to find the house vacant and his wife and sons missing. No one had seen them leave. For several years he did not know where they had gone. Then newcomers into the town from the Canadian northwest brought the report that she and the two children were living in Willow Hills, Saskatchewan, with her parents, who had left their home in East Poulton, Vt., to settle in that territory. Before her marriage, Mrs. Perron was Anna Blanche Jacob, and lived with relatives in Dudley, where her wedding to Perron took place.

Soon after their marriage they came to Southbridge, where the children were born and where they lived in apparent happiness until the mysterious disappearance of the wife and children. Perron said that he had never tried to communicate with his wife and bring about a reconciliation because he had never received a message from her and never knew why she left him. He said that the boys would be given every possible care by him and his eighty-two-year-old mother, Mrs. Marie Perron. Perron is now thirty-nine years old, and his wife is several years younger. He is proprietor of a jitney company operating in this town and Worcester.

Sons Start Hunt for Father.

According to the story told by the boys, their mother left them about four years ago somewhere in South Dakota, where they believe she is now living. Having been told that their father was living in Massachusetts they resolved to make the journey at the first opportunity. Their mother's uncle, Napoleon Jacob, who formerly lived in Marlboro but later moved to the Canadian northwest, decided recently to return East, and the boys made the trip with him.

They reached Worcester about a week ago, and since that time had been searching without success for their father. While walking on Worcester Common they met David Duquette, a Southbridge taxicab driver; and during their conversation with him learned that he knew their father. Duquette immediately telephoned to Perron, and the latter hastened to Worcester and brought them to his home here.

He celebrated their return by keeping open house, showering them with all the good things they could eat, new clothing and other gifts, and by receiving the congratulations of relatives and friends throughout the neighborhood. He intends to take them into business with him.

Judge's Request for Pay
Cut Amazes Politicians

Binghamton, N. Y.—H. C. Stratton of Oxford, appointed by Governor Smith as county judge of Chenango county to succeed James P. Hill, who was elected a justice of the Supreme court, has broken precedents by requesting the board of county supervisors to reduce his salary from $4,000 to $3,500.

The request struck a pleasing chord with the taxpayers, but politicians are horrified.

Judge Stratton maintains that $3,500 is ample pay for the service he is called on to perform, and says the taxpayers should have the benefit of the extra $500.

Son of Lord Youngest Member of Parliament

London.—The youngest member of parliament as a result of the recent elections is Charles A. U. Rhys, who won the Romford division. He is twenty-four years old, and has had no previous political experience. He is the eldest son and heir of Lord Dynevor and is an officer of the grenadier guards.

Kills Self on Way to the Undertaker

Huntington, W. Va.—L. A. Simms of Savannah, Ga., who came here recently to engage in business, summoned a taxicab, paid the driver in advance and instructed him to drive about the city before taking him to an undertaker's establishment. When the driver reached the undertaker's he discovered that Simms had committed suicide by taking poison. A note in his pocket contained directions for his funeral.

STATE MEETING

Republicans Will Hold Convention in Columbus June 24 and 25.

Republicans of Ohio will hold their state convention in Columbus June 24 and 25 in Memorial hall.

Calls for the convention have been sent by Major Charles W. Montgomery chairman of the Republican state central committee.

There will be 1617 delegates apportioned among the counties on the basis of one delegate for each 500 votes and each fraction thereof over 250 cast for Carmi Thompson for governor in 1922.

The delegates will nominate the Republican candidates for presidential electors, formulate the Republican party's state platform and transact such other party business as arises for convention action.

Delegates to the convention will be elected at the April primaries. County central committees may divide their counties into districts each of which shall elect one delegate, or may have all the delegates elected from the county at large.

AMUSEMENTS

Elsie Ferguson in "Outcast." This means something to motion picture fans as was indicated at the Met theater when that popular star was seen in her new Paramount vehicle last night. That "Outcast" is equal in interest to the star's famous picture "Footlights," was admitted by many.

In this excellent offering, Miss Ferguson is seen as a woman who finds love in the strangest manner possible to conceive. She is an outcast, for she is forced to wander the streets after being evicted and then her life's romance begins. A spray of water from a syphon coming from an open window, opens the door to a love romance of absorbing interest in which Miss Ferguson's exquisite art is admirably evidenced. There are many thrilling moments in the development of the story, all of which holds one as by a spell. The finish is a smashing surprise.

David Powell, as leading man, heads one of the strongest supporting casts seen here in a long while. The picture was directed by Chet Withey and is excellent in every respect.

Bryant Farm Gift Attacked.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Constitutionality of the action of the last legislature in accepting the provisions of the will of the late John Bryant, which deeded to the state a 500-acre farm near Yellow Springs, Greene county, was attacked in a petition filed in common pleas court by the Ohio Council of Churches. Prepared by Attorney General Crabbe, the petition alleges that acceptance of the farm is in violation of the constitution of the United States, inasmuch as the will specifically provides that no religious or public worship of any kind shall be held on the property.

Stand-Patter.

This expression originated from "stand pat," a poker term used by a player to announce his intention to play cards originally dealt him without helping his hand by drawing cards. The term was first applied as political slang by Mark Hanna, in 1902, to indicate the attitude on the tariff question of leaders of the Republican party.

Tree of the New York Tenements. The tree of the New York tenements is the allantus, palmlike in its youth, brought originally from China for the gardens of the rich. It grows in discouraging surroundings, is defiant of smoke, does not even ask to be planted; for, Topsylike, it "jest grows." Cut it down, and it comes up again. It is said to have no insect enemies. An odd point in its appearance is that every branch points up.—R. and E. Shackleton in Century Magazine.

DIED IN KANSAS

Mrs. Amelia C. Dreisbach Passed Away Following an Operation.

Mrs. Amelia C. Dreisbach died in Wesley hospital Wichita, Kansas, Thursday night following an operation for appendicitis performed last Sunday night.

The body will be shipped to this city for burial and is expected to arrive here Saturday evening. Rev. and Mrs. Raph Schwab and Robert Dreisbach will accompany the remains.

The deceased was the widow of Reuben H. Dreisbach to whom she was married February 10, 1887. She was born November 18, in Ogle county, Illinois, and was a daughter of Samuel H. and Elizabeth Hummel Rickert. Her parents were born in Pennsylvania. Her mother was the daughter of Rev. Christian Hummel, one of the pioneer preachers of the Evangelical association. A son and daughter survive. They are Ruby, wife of Rev. Ralph Schwab and Robert R. Dreisbach, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Dreisbach left for the west shortly after the death of her son, Charles H. Dreisbach, who lost his life when he was suffocated by gas escaping from a Delco lighting plant at his home in Pickaway township.

In Memoriam.

Editor Union-Herald: — Gladys Amanda Conkel Sturgell, daughter of Milton and Amanda Conkel was born August 4, 1903, and died February 1, 1924, aged 20 years, five months and two days. She was united in marriage to Ras Sturgell April 3, 1920, which formed a happy union. She leaves to mourn her loss the parents and husband, six sisters, Minta, Rhoda, Maude Leona, Viola and Goldie all at home; five brothers, Frank, at Circleville; Herman, Nathan, Dillard and Cecil all at home, besides a host of friends and relatives.

She bore her affliction with endured patience and always a loving smile till until death's summons called her away from us. On January 31, 1924, she gave her heart to God and expressed her happiness by uplifted hands and just before dying she told her husband she was just going over home. Her affliction was due to a major operation June 9, 1922, which later caused the dreadful disease of tuberculosis which caused her death.

Mrs. Sturgell was a sister of Mr. Frank Conkel of Mingo street, this city.

Mrs. Wilson to Rest Up.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will take a long rest to recuperate from the strain attendant upon her husband's illness, death and burial, it was stated on her behalf. She will continue to live in Washington, it was said.

Peril in Iodine Fumes.

Fumes of iodine have recently been urged as a method of administering that drug preferable to the usual tincture. It has been shown by experiments that fumes are absorbed through the skin and when inhaled are absorbed by the lungs, but it is shown also that inhalation is very dangerous even in small quantities, especially when there is any disease of the respiratory passages.

Ancient Remedy for Toothache.
The most popular remedy for toothache in ancient Egypt seems to have been a mixture of crushed henbane seeds with cement used as a filling. Coarse plumbago, palm fruit and honey was recommended for tightening the teeth and various forms of plaster were used. The cause of decay in those days was generally attributed, especially by the Chinese, to a little white worm which ate its way into the teeth and gums, and many and various are the ancient recipes for destroying this worm.

Dairy Cows Must Be Fed Liberal Ration

Hay, Silage and Grain Mixture Needed in Winter.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If dairy cows are to be fed for profitable production they must receive a liberal ration at all seasons. In summer, pasture generally is depended upon, but often it must be supplemented by soiling crops or silage, and sometimes by concentrates as well. For winter feeding, the ration usually is composed of hay, silage, and a mixture of grains. In properly balancing the ration the grain mixture is compounded to fit the roughage with due consideration for cost, bulk, palatability, and physiological effect upon the cow. For best results, cows must be fed individually, salted regularly, and furnished with all the clean water they will drink.

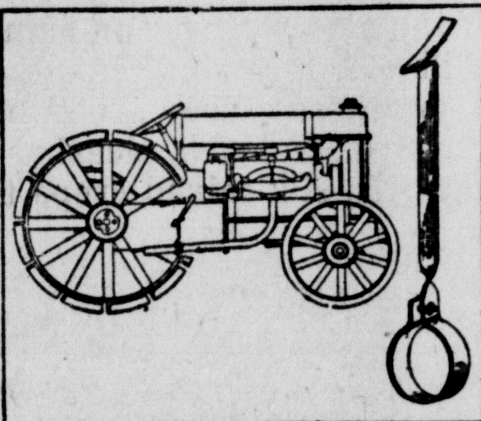

A few simple guides for feeding have been summarized by the dairymen of the United States Department of Agriculture as follows: (1) Under most circumstances the cow should be fed all the roughage that she will eat up clean, and the grain ration should be adjusted to the milk production. (2) A grain mixture should be fed in the proportion of one pound to each three pints or pounds of milk produced daily by the cow, except in the case of a cow producing a flow of forty pounds or more, when the ration may be one pound to each three and a half or four pounds of milk. An even better rule is one pound of grain each day for a pound of butterfat that the cow produces during the week. (3) Feed all the cow will respond to in milk production. When she begins to put on flesh, cut down the grain.

Clutch-Holding Device

Very Handy on Tractor

The Scientific American in illustrating and describing a clutch holder, the invention of F. F. Wunder, Valley Falls, Kan., says:

The invention relates to devices which are adapted for attachment to a tractor to engage a clutch control lever of the tractor to releasably hold the latter in position to occasion the releasing of the driving connection between the engine of the tractor and the transmission thereof, without disengaging the gears of the transmission. A further object is to provide a clutch holder which comprises but a single piece of resilient material.

Start Egg-Plant Early in Spring Under Glass

The egg-plant is a warm-weather plant as yet not acclimatized in the North. It should be started early, under glass. Plants should be "pricked off" when the second leaves appear, four inches apart, in boxes. "Pricking off" means removing the plants from their crowded position in the hotbed and placing at some distance apart in boxes or in flower pots. The boxes should be kept in a coldframe and plenty of light and air should be admitted on warm, sunny days in order to harden the plants. After frost danger is past and the soil is well warmed the plants may be transplanted. Care must be taken to avoid the use of extremely rich soil or the plants are likely to keep up their growth until too late in the season to escape the early fall frosts. The seed should be sown about April 10. A temperature of 65 to 70 degrees should be maintained in the hotbed.

Plants should be set about three feet apart each way. A dozen plants are sufficient for the needs of a family. One ounce of seed will furnish 750 plants.

Inefficient Production

No Cure for Low Prices

In discussing various aspects of farm product values, Professor J. I. Falconer, agricultural economist, Ohio State university says:

"Inefficiency in production is no cure for low prices. Experience and research have shown that farmers with high yields make greater profits than their neighbors with low yields. On high-priced land high yields are more economical to produce than low yields. If a reduction in output of a particular crop seems desirable, it would be better to reduce the acreage or, for individual farmers, to abandon the crop entirely than to reduce the yields."

Dairymen Are in Favor of Calves During Fall

Dairymen have practically settled the question of having calves come spring or fall, in favor of the fall season, because cows that freshen in the fall always produce more milk and butterfat than those that freshen in the spring, and because there is more time to attend the cows during the winter. Hence from January 1 to March 1 is the most favorable season to breed.

English Royal Coach at $38,000.

The English royal state coach, which is still in use on ceremonial occasions, is a magnificent vehicle of its kind, and, according to Horace Walpole, cost nearly $38,000, says the Detroit News. The use of coaches is a comparatively recent innovation, for as late as the reign of Queen Elizabeth the English royal family had to be content with a wagon, which was a sort of cart without springs, the body resting solidly on the axle. Before the invention of the coach the most aristocratic ladies were accustomed to ride on pillions fixed on the horse, usually behind some relative or servant.

Oil From Penguins.

The island of Macquarie lies about half way between the southern coast of Australia and the Antarctic continent. It is uninhabited, but serves as a breeding ground for millions of penguins. Recently it is reported the government of Australia has leased the island to a company which has gone into the business of manufacturing penguin oil, which is produced by digesting the bodies of the birds in huge cauldrons or boilers, in which the pressure of steam is kept at about twenty pounds. The oil is thus brought to the surface and drawn off.

Tunnel in Dispute

New Zealand has aroused controversy by declaring that its new Otago tunnel, which pierces the Southern Alps of New Zealand for a distance of one and one-third miles, is the longest of the British empire.

Londoners retort that their Piccadilly tube runs for about eight miles, from Baron's court to Finsbury park. They also point out, further, that the central London railway stays underground for seven miles, between Liverpool street station and Wood lane, and at the Bakerloo and Hampstead lines have continuous tunnels for more than six miles.

The most important tunnel in the British Isles is that beneath the River Severn, joining Bristol with South Wales. It is four miles long.—New York Times.

PARAGUAY IS HAVEN OF HUMAN DERELICTS

Country Favorite Refuge for Other Nations' Exiles.

Paraguay has long been a favorite refuge for men from other climes who for one reason or another felt better with many miles between them and their native countries. In the following examples it would obviously have been unkind to give too definite details.

In a village not far from Asuncion lives a baron from one of the oldest and noblest houses of Prussia. On the wall of his mud-floored but hangs an affectionately autographed photograph of Wilhelm II. The baron, like his Paraguayan wife and brood of children, goes barefoot habitually, yet clings to a monocle, last remnant of his vanished splendor.

Working on an isolated cattle camp is the brother of the royal equerry of a Scandinavian king. His story includes a duel with a semiroyal scion over the affections of a girl. Of his Vikinglike strength and beauty, cana, native rum, is slowly robbing him.

An American former cowboy has been more fortunate. He claims to have once been a member of the Texas Rangers, but it is commonly thought he had been "about two jumps ahead of the Rangers." At any rate Paraguay seems to agree with his health, and his knowledge of the cattle game and lightning ability with a Colt .45 have stood him in good stead.

At the end of the American Civil war certain irreconcilables from the south migrated to Latin America rather than accept defeat. One man, prominent in the Confederate navy—his family name has been given to a town, a county and a college in North Carolina—settled in Paraguay. Late in life he married a Paraguayan girl, and his son, now a grown man, can barely speak English. Poor derelicts! What brave ships you once were! What stormy seas you sailed! May your battered hulks rest quietly on the peaceful sands where at last you have stranded!—Adventure Magazine.

Her Lover's Mean Trick.

A new boy came to our school and I soon let him know that I was his for the asking. But he never asked. One day our teacher was late in coming because of a heavy snowfall. The school was in an uproar, everybody trying to think up something more rash than his neighbor. Suddenly something fell in my lap. Sure enough it was from my hero. It looked like a piece of crushed chocolate candy. I gave him an adorable smile and started to eat the supposed candy. He had extracted the filling and placed chalk, colored chalk, into it instead.—Chicago Journal.

INCOME TAX

Extension May be Given on Proper Showing to Collector.

When, by reason of illness or absence from home, additional time for filing an income tax return is required the taxpayer should address to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which he lives a request for an extension. This request must be mailed before the return is due, March 15, 1924.

The collector may grant an extension of not exceeding 30 days. As a condition for granting such an extension the collector may require on or before March 15, the filing of a tentative return should be made on the usual form, marked "Tentative" and should contain a sworn statement of the estimated amount of tax due.

If before the end of a 30 day extension an accurate return can not be made, appeal for a further extension must be made to the commissioner of internal revenue, Washington D. C., together with a full recital of the causes for the delay. The commissioner will not grant an additional extension without a clear showing that a complete return can not be made within the 30 day period.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sampson announce the marriage of their daughter, Ruth M., to Mr. Jacob D. Flexer on Saturday, February 2, at 440 East Main street, Columbus.

The Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church will entertain in honor of Brotherhood and the Men's Bible class this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church basement. There will be plenty of food, fun and fellowship. One feature of the evening will be a play entitled: "Those Husbands of Ours."

If the men are in doubt as to where they stand in the estimation of the women, come to this meeting and find out.

Forty relatives and friends were present Saturday evening, February 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Crumrine, 1536 Menlo Place, Columbus, to witness the marriage of Mr. Crumrine's sister, Miss Elizabeth Crumrine to Mr. Ray E. Drumm, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Drumm, of Circleville. Long baskets of spring flowers filled the mantel and trailing smilax and asparagus ferns formed a drapery from these, making an attractive background. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Distell, brother-in-law and sister of the bride attended them. An unusual ceremony in conjunction with the marriage service was the baptism of the bride, that ceremony preceding the taking of the wedding vows. Rev. O. Jerome Shoop of Third avenue Methodist Episcopal church was the officiating clergyman. Dozens of candles furnished lighting for the wedding, two seven-branched candelabra on the mantel shelf, filled with white cathedral candles and others in single sconces and sticks around the room. The bride was gown in a frock of beige crepe with beaded designs and carried a shower of presias in white and orchid shades.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frances M. Crumrine of the Lenox hotel and after a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Drumm will be at home temporarily at that address. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Cramer of Chicago, uncle and aunt of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Drumm, parents of the bridegroom were present from out of town.

Complimenting the bride, Miss Esther van Horne, 2147 Waldeck avenue, entertained Monday evening with a theater party; Wednesday evening Miss Marjorie Gerhart 18 Longview avenue, and Miss Gertrude Mettler, of Grove City, were the hostesses at a shower for the bride. Thursday evening Mrs. R. H. Distell of Briarwood avenue, gave a shower for her sister at her home and a luncheon Friday at the Maramor.

Put Romance Before Truth.
Inaccuracies in history and anecdotes with no foundation of fact may be blamed on some of the older historians. The men who first wrote of Colonial and Revolutionary times often tried to make their accounts romantic and picturesque by revising history to suit themselves, because they did not see that the real facts were more romantic than their embellishments could make them. Our histories, paintings, poetry and traditions are still influenced by their work.

BUTTER RECORD

Holstein Cow Credited With 1367.75 Pounds of Butter in Year.

The Holstein-Friesian cow, White Beauty Pontiac Mahomet 356808 has just closed a long time test and is credited with 32,626.3 pounds of milk and 1367.75 pounds of butter in 365 days. This makes "White Beauty" the highest producing Holstein cow in the state of Ohio for the yearly production of butter. She is also the fourth cow in Ohio to produce over 30,000 pounds of milk in a year.

WOULD BOOST RATES

Telephone Company to Seek Further Increases in Near Future.

Columbus, Feb. 8.—Increases in telephone rates for unified service in Ohio cities and the general increase in long distance tolls proposed by the Ohio Bell Telephone company at this time are only the forerunners of additional increases the company will ask later.

This was made known by Karl T. Burr, counsel for the company, before the public utilities commission at the opening of the hearing on the proposed increase in long distance toll rates. "Rates now being asked for unified service are not sufficient to give a fair return on the value of the property used," said Burr. "The company is going ahead, however, in the belief that the subscribers will be willing, after they get the improved service, to meet the company half way in the matter of reasonable rates."

The proposed toll rate involved in the hearing averages 3 cents on all long distance messages, according to the company, and will add $400,000 a year to Ohio's long distance toll bills.
